SHERIFF'S SALE.

CUMBERLAND, ss.

TAKEN on execution against Robert Illsley and will be sold at public auction on Saturday, July 7th at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the Sheriff's office in the city of Portland, in said county, all the right to a conveyance of the following real estate which existed on the 29th day of November, A. D., 1865, at 12 o'clock and twenty-five minutes in the afternoon being the time of attachment on the original writ. By virtue of a written contract given by William W. Thomas to Robert Illsley for the conveyance to said Illsley of the said real estate, namely, a certain lot of land in Westbrook, county of Cumberland, with the buildings thereon, bounded as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the north westerly side of the Back Cove road so called, at the corner of land formerly owned by Joseph Beale, thence following the fence north 25 degs., west seventeen rods and sixteen links, thence north 37½ degs. east, eight rods and fourteen links, thence north 42½ degs. west one hundred and thirty-three rods, thence by the fence northeasterly thirteen rods to a stake, thence southeasterly one hundred and fifty rods more or less to a stake in the northwesterly side of Back Cove road, distant easterly from the bounds begun at twenty-eight and one half rods, thence by the Back Cove road, southwesterly twenty-eight and one half rods to the place begun at.

It is understood and agreed that a strip thirty feet in width shall be appropriated from the northeasterly side line of the above described land for the purpose of a street to be opened and laid out when Daniel Woodman, jr., shall give thirty feet in width adjoining the same, so as to make a street sixty feet in width the same length of the above lot conveyed, being same property described in a deed from Daniel Woodman, jr., to Wm. W. Thomas, dated March 12th, 1857, and recorded in Cumberland registry of deeds, book 275, page 430, to which record reference is had, and the same lately occupied by said Illsley as a residence.

Dated at Portland June 1st, A. D., 1866.

GEO. W. PARKER, Sheriff.

A MODERN MIRACLE!

From old and young, from rich and poor, from high-born and lowly, comes the Universal Voice of praise for
HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

It is a perfect and miraculous article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, dry and wiry hair into Beautiful Silken Tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR to ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.

Use it a few times, and
the whitest and worst looking hair resumes its youthful beauty. It does not dye the hair, but strikes at the root, and fills it with new life and coloring matter.

It will not take a long, disagreeable trial to prove the truth of this matter. The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and the old, gray, discolored appearance of the hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining and beautiful locks.

Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Renewer; no other article is at all like it in effect. You will find it CHEAP TO BUY. PLEASANT TO TRY.
and SURE TO DO YOU GOOD.

There are many imitations. Be Sure you procure the genuine, manufactured only by

ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

—The Portsmouth Chronicle says while the train was waiting at the E. R. R. station, Tuesday, at 10 o'clock, some miserable sneak abstracted from one of the cars a nice cane and a pair of gold-bowed spectacles, belonging to a gentleman en route to Portland. The articles were recovered.

—The Bangor Times says the Hatch House in that city has again changed proprietorship, Mr. E. H. Gregory having disposed of his interest in the same to C. C. Johnson and Edward Tebbets, a former landlord of the house.

—The St. Croix Courier of Saturday says a number of Fenians are still lurking around the border.

—The Calais Advertiser says that as a railway train was on its way down from Baring on Saturday last, the axle of one of the lumber cars broke, and the one behind it came jam up against it and two men who had taken their seats on a load of lumber, got their feet very severely jammed, but had no bones broken. Had they been in the passenger car where they ought to have been, in all probability they would not have been injured.

—The Machias Union says subscriptions are being made for a steamboat of a suitable kind to run on the Union river from Ellsworth, in connection with the steamer City of Richmond. The boat will cost about $12,000, of which more than half has been raised.

—There is no beef in Farmington.

—The Chronicle announces that last week A J. Davis of Salem caught a male wolf by means of meat poisoned with strychnine. He was 5 feet in length and 3 feet high, and is estimated to weigh 160 lbs. He had killed 50 sheep.

—The Bath Times learns that on Tuesday, John C. Swanton, Esq., of that city, while at work at his house, fell and broke his left arm near the wrist.

—The Augusta Journal says that Silas Leonard, Esq., of that city, succeeds finely in the growing of the Concord grapes by allowing the vines to run at will in the tops of his apple trees, and without the trouble of taking them down and covering them in the autumn.

—A correspondent of the Rockland Democrat states that the citizens of Deer Isle were thrown into intense excitement on Wednesday evening last, by a most murderous assault made by one Charles A. Hooper, a merchant of that town, upon Capt. John Collins, Jr., master of Packet Eclipse. Capt. Collins received four wounds, two in the fore arm, one in the shoulder, and a slight wound in the neck. Two muscles, and one artery of the fore arm were severed entirely. Hooper was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $5000.

—On Monday last, says the Kennebec Journal, the heavy rains caused the bank on the west side of the railroad track, between Court and Winthrop streets, to slide down, pushing a coal shed which stood under the bank directly across the track. An engine and a crew of men were at once set to work to pull it down, which was accomplished in a short time. In the removal of the shed a beam fell upon the head of Mr. L. R. Holbrook, a joiner in the car shop, injuring him quite seriously. He was carried home and surgical assistance obtained and he is now quite comfortable.

—The Calais Advertiser says that bears are unusually plentiful in that region this season. During last week one man had a fine heifer killed, and another man had one so badly torn he had to kill it. A trap was set for the varmint and he walked into it, and his hide and snout were made to pay for the damage he had done.

—The Lewiston Journal says one gardener in that city is planting, this year, about 16,000 cabbage plants—covering several acres. Possibly he means to convert the city to "sour krout."

VARIETIES.

—The Argus tells a good story of an amateur gardener of this city, who planted some beans the other day. They were coming up nicely, but his wife, who knew a thing or two about such matters, was surprised to find him breaking them off and planting them again under the supposition that, as the bean part had come up, he hadn't planted deep enough!

—Mr. Thayer of Pennsylvania, declared in the House the other day, that he felt compelled to insist upon—no matter what—as he held no idea of "going it blind" on anybody's statement. Mr. Hale of New York, a gentleman of an inquiring turn of mind, desired to know what Mr. Thayer meant, declaring that "going it blind" was "a thing strange to him." Mr. Thayer—"It is one of the expressions of the day, and means voting for a thing on the say-so of some other person when you do not know who the person is or what he says."

—Hon. James M. Stone, Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, was surprised at the close of the session, by the presentation of a gold watch and chain, and a large picture embracing the likenesses of the members of the House.

—M. Melsens, a French chemist, has found that tobaccos from various countries contain nicotine in very different proportions. In tobacco from some parts of France there is 7.96 per cent. of nicotine; whilst Havana tobacco contains only two per cent.

—The editor of the Hancock Journal has his little troubles. One of his "patrons wants him to give certain parties—what shall we say?—sulphur without molasses;—and because he of the Journal declines, accuses him of moral cowardice and talks of milk and water.

—A restaurant belonging to a cockney was recently burnt; the proprietor, not discouraged, declared that another, should, "Phœnix-like, arise from its hashes."

BY TELEGRAPH,

TO THE DAILY PRESS.

Friday Morning, June 1, 1866.

XXXIX CONGRESS---First Session.

WASHINGTON, May 31.

SENATE.

Mr. Ramsey, from the Naval Committee, reported a resolution for the relief of Paul Forbes, contractor for building of the iron clad Idaho.

Mr. Wilson, of the committee of the two houses on the death of Gen. Scott, reported a resolution of respect and veneration for the memory of the deceased, and that as a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, when the two houses adjourn to-day, it be to meet on Monday next, and that a committee of seven Senators and nine Representatives be appointed to represent Congress at the funeral of the late Lieut. General.

The resolution was adopted unanimously.

The Senate agreed to the report of the conference committee on the bill to amend the pension laws.

The tax bill was received from the House, and referred to the Finance Committee.

The reconstruction resolution was taken up. The pending question was in the substitution of a new section three, which was adopted—32 against 10.

Further consideration of the subject was postponed until Monday.

The Chair announced the committee to attend the funeral of Gen. Scott: Messrs. Wilson, Johnson, Lane of Indiana, Davis, Grimes, Anthony and Nesmith.

Mr. Chandler introduced a bill to amend the National Currency Act, authorizing the issue of one hundred millions in notes in addition to the three hundred millions provided for in section 22, of said act provided, not over five millions be issued within six months from the passage of this act, and not over two millions per month thereafter; and provided any existing bank applying before October 1st next, if approved by the Comptroller as in good standing, shall have authority to become a National bank; and provided, also that banks of unimpaired capital in States having the least voluble amount of circulating notes, shall have the preference in receiving such authority; and provided that the entire amount given to National banks converted from State banks, shall not exceed fifteen millions, and preference shall be given such States and territories as have not received their voluble proportion of the circulating notes, so as to equalize the entire apportionment of four hundred millions. The bill also amends the National Banking Act so as to require the banks in New York, Boston and Philadelphia to have on hand at all times, in lawful money of the United States, at least twenty-five per cent. of the aggregate amount of its notes in circulation and deposits; if below twenty-five per cent., such banks cannot make loans or discounts, or pay dividends until the required proportion is adjusted; provided, that clearing house certificates is deemed lawful money. The act is also amended by allowing each association to select, subject to the approval of the Comptroller, an association in New York, Boston or Philadelphia, in which to redeem its circulating notes at par. It is also amended by striking the exemption from State taxation.

Mr Grimes, from the Naval Committee, reported, with amendments, the bill to define the number and regulate the appointment of officers in the Navy. The active list of the Navy to be one Admiral, one Vice Admiral, ten Rear Admirals, twenty-five Commodores, fifty Captains, ninety Commanders, 180 Lieut. Commanders, 180 Lieutenants, 160 Masters, 160 Ensigns, and in other grades the number now required by law. Including the retired list, the number of Rear Admirals is not to exceed twenty-one.

The Senate went into Executive session, after which it adjourned.

HOUSE.

The Senate amendments to the House bill, facilitating commercial, postal and military communication among the several States, were concurred in.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill to promote the construction of a railroad from Pittsburg to Cleveland. The bill was passed—77 to 41.

A number of bills were taken from the Speaker's table, and referred.

The bill authorizing the appointment of examiners of a site for a fresh water basin for iron clads, was considered.

Mr. Lynch moved the previous question thereon. The resolution was passed. It provides for examination of sites near Portland, Me.

The bill to protect American citizens engaged in lumbering on the St. Croix river, was passed.

The Speaker presented a message from the Senate, concerning the death of Gen. Scott. The action of the Senate was concurred in.

The report of the committee of conference on the bill amending the pension laws, was concurred in.

The bill reported yesterday to promote the construction of a railroad from Washington to Point of Rocks was passed—65 against 38.

A resolution was adopted that the Committee on Pensions inquire into the expediency of increasing pensions to widows of deceased soldiers and sailors of the present war in proportion to the number of children under sixteen.

A message from the President was received, enclosing further reports of Gens. Steadman and Fullerton in reference to the operations of the Freedmen's Bureau. Referred.

A bill was introduced to enlarge the powers of the National Courts as to processes.

The House Committee to attend the funeral of General Scott are Speaker Colfax, Messrs. Schenck, Denning, Marston, Rosseau, Brigham, Ancona, Ketchum, Banks and Sitgraves. Mr. Banks took the place of Mr. Blaine, excused.

A bill was introduced to reduce the pay of officers and regulate the pay of soldiers of the army. It was debated, after which the House adjourned.

Interesting News from Panama.

NEW YORK, May 31.

The steamer Costa Rica brings $324,500 in gold. Among her passengers is Mr. Nelson, late U. S. Minister to Chili.

Panama has been kept in a state of excitement by a report of an expected revolution. Nothing had transpired however.

The Spanish squadron left Callao in disgrace, it is said, for Montevideo. Before the departure, Admiral Murrey addressed a communication to the British Consul, full of bombast, stating that having chastised the Peruvians, he now leaves the Pacific, ready at any time to return if Peru again becomes insolent.

Trade on the coast was brightening.

Guatemala, Salvador and Costa Rica have declined to join the Chilian-Peruvian alliance.

The Vanderbilt and monitor Manadnock sailed from Panama on the 21st for San Francisco.

The convict Boody, who stole $15,000 from the safe of the U. S. Paymaster, had escaped from the chain gang at Panama.

Various Items.

NEW YORK, May 30.

The steamer City of Cork from Liverpool, has arrived. News anticipated. Passengers healthy.

The steamship Atlanta took out $55,000 in gold. The shipments on Saturday will probably be three millions.

NEW YORK, May 31.

The shipments of flour and wheat to this country from abroad, are becoming common. The City of Cork brought to-day, 498 casks of French flour.

The Harvard base ball club played against the Eureka club, to-day, at Newark, N. J. and was defeated on a score of 42 to 59.

Miscellaneous Dispatches.

AUGUSTA, Ga. May 31.

In the case of W. Law, contesting the constitutionality of the test oath as applied to lawyers in the United States Courts at Savannah, Judge Erskine to-day decided that the act of Congress approved Jan. 24th, 1865, so far as it was intended to apply to this case, is repugnant to the Constitution of the United States.

LANCASTER, N. H., May 31.

The American Telegraph Company have this day completed their White Mountain line to this town, and opened an office here and at Whitefield.

Washington Correspondence.

NEW YORK, May 31.

Special dispatches say a new tariff bill is preparing in the Treasury Department.

An army surgeon just from Texas, gives a gloomy account of affairs in that State.

Advices received by the Government, from Germany, indicate a large return of United States bonds within the next few months, in consequence of the unsettled condition of affairs in Europe.

THE FENIANS.

Large Bodies Moving Northward!

PROBABLE RAID ON CANADA.

Seizure of Arms and Ammunition.

NEW YORK, May 31.

The Herald's Toronto dispatch says the Mayor of Buffalo yesterday telegraphed to the Mayor of Hamilton that six hundred Fenians had left Cleveland for that city. The Great Western Railroad managers have sent all their surplus rolling stock into the interior.—Rumor has it that the Government will tomorrow call out the volunteers again.

Yesterday, U. S. Marshal Munroe seized on the steamer Gen. Sedgwick, from Galveston, 8,000 rounds of ammunition and fifty revolvers, consigned to the Adjutant General of the Fenian Brotherhood. From the correspondence which fell into the U. S. Marshal's hands, it appears the property was stolen from one of the Federal camps in Texas.

The Herald's Toronto dispatch dated 30th, midnight, says an Ottawa dispatch states that the Government is fully aware of the movement of Fenians, and is prepared. The railway companies have everything ready, to load troops at a moment's notice. Troops have not yet been called out, but can be on the way to the frontier at three hours' notice.

The Herald's Toronto dispatch of May 31st, says the excitement is increasing, and volunteering is again commencing with energy.—News of the determination of the Government to call out volunteers, caused great rejoicing. There is no alarm, and business is going on as usual. The Grapevine is eagerly devoured, and the newspaper and telegraph offices are beseiged. The entire press unite in the belief that a blow is about to be struck. Rumor says the Fenians are collecting on the line of the St. Lawrence.

The Cabinet was called together to-day, and the Ministers are hurrying to Ottawa.

The Evening Telegraph has a reliable special from Hamilton, saying that at 11 A. M., to day, the troops there were called out by the bugle, and ample preparations were being made.

The same paper also has a dispatch from Buffalo, dated 2 o'clock P. M., saying the Fenians are constantly receiving additions to their numbers. They are very secretive and will divulge nothing, except that they are going to California.

It is believed that Gen. Sweeney has sent armed men into the Province, to rise at night, and seize the arms in the Government buildings on the frontier.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 31.

Another body of men arrived here last night from the west, said to be a Fenian regiment. About 1,008 men have come altogether, and more are expected. They have apparently no arms, but it is understood that there are plenty secreted here. It is pretty generally thought that a raid on Canada from this neighborhood is determined upon. There is no excitement here. No one believes in the success of any movement the Fenians may make.

It is rumored that the Fenians intend moving on Her Majesty's dominions, to-night, but nothing reliable can be found out.

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.

It is reported that three companies of Fenians leave this evening to join the party now on the northern frontier.

TORONTO, C. W., May 31.

The Daily Telegraph has a dispatch from Montreal, to-day, saying that 1,000 stand of arms were seized at St. Albans, yesterday, concealed in boxes marked machinery. When seized, they were turned over to the American authorities at Burlington. The Telegraph also says the Great Western Company, which received notice to be ready to move troops, have telegraphed to the Grand Trunk Company, to allow them the use of their rolling stock. Col. Durie received orders this morning, from Ottawa, to notify all corps in this district to be ready to move at once for active service, if required. The city is rather excited. The Canadians admit that Gen. Sweeney will attempt an invasion. The Government is loudly censured for withdrawing troops from the frontier, and leaving the border towns at the mercy of the Fenians.

BOSTON, May 31.

Two hundred able bodied young men left the Fitchburg Depot by the 5.30 train this afternoon. They were quiet, well behaved and without arms. Nothing could be learned of their destination, but report says they were Fenians and had tickets for Ogdensburg.

NEW HAVEN, May 31.

A Fenian company, one hundred strong, left here last night, going north. Another company will follow soon.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Circular to Collectors of Customs.

Embarkation of Austrian Troops for Mexico Countermanded.

CONFIRMATIONS, &c.

WASHINGTON, May 31.

The Senate in executive session to-day confirmed the nomination of James Wilson, of Indiana, as Minister resident at Venezuela; Wm. Faxon, of Connecticut, to be Assistant Secretary of the Navy, vice Fox, resigned, and the latter to be an additional Secretary of the Navy for six months, under the recent act of Congress; Edward Fox to be Judge of the U. S. District Court for the District of Maine.

The Secretary of the Treasury has addressed a Circular to Collectors of Customs directing their attention to the joint resolution of Congress, approved May 26, 1866, and to the act of February 25, 1799, respecting quarantine and health laws.

The following is an official translation from the La France newspaper of the 15th of May: "The embarkation of troops of Austrian volunteers for Mexico has been countermanded. Those enlisted have been discharged, and a majority of them have been enrolled in the army of the north."

The report of the Secretary of the Treasury in reference to the sales of gold will probably be sent to Congress on Monday. It is stated it will show total sales amounting to $35,000,000, at a premium since the 1st inst. of 30 1-2. Also, that no gold was sold in March and April for less than 27.

The Cholera in New York—Additional Cases.

NEW YORK, May 31.

Two deaths from cholera occurred yesterday, Jonathan Fitzgerald, No. 14 Cherry street, and a woman named Carrigaw, No. 83 Sixth Avenue.

Eleven new cases of cholera are reported on the steamer Union, and 38 on the Peruvian, at lower quarantine. The number of sick received on the hospital ship May 30th from the Union was 45, and from the Peruvian 39, of whom fourteen died.

The Turf—Fastest Time on Record.

CINCINNATI, May 31.

At the Buckeye Race Course yesterday, the first race, mile heats, best 3 in 5, was won by "Revolver," with full weight. Time of second heat, 1 minute 44 1-2 seconds; which is considerably the fastest on record.

Three horses were entered for the trotting match best 3 in 5, over the Fashion Course this afternoon. The race was won by Henry B. Patchen. Best time 2.25.

—Mr. Barnum is credited with a joke apropos of the Senatorial election in Connecticut. After the vote in the House was announced, says the Bridgeport Standard, and seven union votes had been cast against the caucus nominee, a copperhead acquaintance went up to Mr. Barnum and said: "Well, we are raking out your party. We have got out seven members to-day." "Yes," responded the great showman, "the same number that were raked out of Mary Magdalene." The conversation was not pursued.

—The Parepa concert troupe next season will consist of Mme. Parepa, Signor Ferranti, buffo singer, Carl Rosa, J. Levi, S. B. Mills, pianist, and an orchestra of European performers.

—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette reports that a Mr. Disman of Upper Sandusky Ohio, has discovered a process of hardening copper, an art which has been lost for nearly three thousand years.

KINGSBURY J., PRESIDING.

THURSDAY.—Bridget A. Murphy was brought up, charged with larceny of wearing apparel from the house of Mrs. Best, on Fore street. She was adjudged guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars and costs, which she was unable to do and was therefore sent to jail.

Laying of the Corner Stone of the Cathedral.

The ceremony of laying the Corner Stone of the Catholic Cathedral took place yesterday afternoon, and attracted an immense throng of spectators, who could be numbered only by thousands. The spacious grounds on which the building is to be erected, the street in front, and every adjoining place where a look could be obtained, were filled with people, and the utmost order prevailed.

The grounds were decorated with lines of flags of all nations running across the street and over the contemplated building. A large platform had been erected contiguous to the point where the corner stone was to be laid, upon which the services were to be performed. A group of some 300 children, the misses beautifully dressed in white and adorned with flowers, occupied raised seats near the platform.—These children were from the Catholic Schools of St. Aloysius, St. Dominic and St. Mary, and were to assist in the services by singing. On the balcony of the Sisters of Charity house was a select choir, composed of twelve of our best vocalists, led by Mr. Dennett.

The services, which were those of the Catholic church, with all its pomp and form, and which are calculated to create an impression, were conducted by Rt. Rev. Bishop Bacon, assisted by Rev. Jno. O' Donnell, formerly of St. Dominic's church, now of Nashua, N. H.; Rev. Father Muller of St. Dominic's church; Rev. Wm. McDonald of Manchester, N. H.; Rev. Henry Gillen of Bangor and Rev. E. Vetromile of Biddeford. Rev. John de Rose, Secretary to the Bishop was master of ceremonies, and Rev. Michael O'Brien of this city, Cross Bearer. There were present in addition to the Bishop, twenty-eight of the clergy of this diocese.

At quarter past four o'clock, a procession composed of the Bishop and clergy, led by the Cross Bearer, and preceded by thirty Altar boys, proceeded from the Chapel to the North Eastern part of the lot, where, under the folds of the Stars and Stripes a Cross had been erected. Here the prayers prescribed by the rubric were recited by the Bishop. This ceremony being over the procession then marched to to the platform where the blessing of the Corner Stone was performed, according to the rites of the church, by the Bishop. The litany of the Saints was then read by Father O'Donnell, the clergy responding.

A hymn prepared for the occasion was then sung in a splendid manner by the select choir under Mr. Dennett.

Bishop Bacon then delivered a short discourse.—Taking for his theme the 1st verse of the 127th Psalm, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it," he briefly impressed upon his hearers the idea that God must be with man in order that the undertakings of man shall prosper and be carried out.

Assembled to lay the corner-stone of this House of God, remarked the Bishop, it is is to be devoted to His service; and when erected and dedicated to that service, to God it belongs, and man has no control over it.

It was to be a House of Prayer. In it would be performed, so long as it lasts, all those ceremonies which bring God to His children;—in the bread and the wine that would be dispensed in it. It would be the place for God's children to bring their offerings and petitions and to hear His Word; to be thankful for all He has done for His Saints, and for the innumerable blessings that have flowed upon the world through their intercession. It would be the place to plead for mercy and forgiveness;

The Constitutional Amendment

NOW PENDING BEFORE THE U. S. SENATE.

ARTICLE —.

SECTION 1. All persons born in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SEC. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed; but whenever, in any State, the elective franchise shall be denied to any persons of its male inhabitants, being citizens of the United States not less than 21 years of age, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation in such State shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens not less than 21 years of age in such State.

SEC. 3. No person shall be a senator or representative in Congress, or an elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress or officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof: but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each house, remove such disability.

SEC. 4. All obligations of the United States incurred in suppressing insurrection or in defence of the Union, or for payment of bounties or pensions incident thereto, shall remain inviolate.

SEC. 5. Neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for compensation for emancipation of any slave, and such debts and obligations and claims shall be forever held illegal and void.

SEC. 6. Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

Political Controversy.

A communication in Tuesday's Argus, over the signature "Patriot," raises the following interesting question:

How shall we get rid of the low slang, the vituperation, the personalities, which too often characterize, not to say disgrace, political campaigns, and which do no manner of good to anybody? How shall we eliminate this rowdyish element from the political canvass, and confine it to a manly discussion of the merits of the policy represented by each of the two parties, and to a consideration of the fitness of the candidates for the honest and competent discharge of the duties of the offices for which they are respectively nominated?

The method proposed by "Patriot" is, that the candidates nominated by the parties in this State shall canvass the State together, holding a joint meeting and speaking once at least in every county. The plan is not objectionable on the score of novelty, nor indeed on any other, if the candidates themselves choose to embrace it. But we are unable to see how such a debate, occurring once in each county during the campaign, is to eliminate the rowdyish element from the canvass. The press is the great forum of political discussion in every free country. Every day in Bangor, Bath, Lewiston and Portland, and weekly in every village in the State, the discussion will go on. The dignity and candor displayed by the rival candidates in their fifteen public discussions in the several counties, will be lost upon the great body of the people unless the press repeats and reflects those admirable qualities. While in Cumberland County they address hundreds once, the newspapers of Portland will address thousands every day.

The practical advantage of "Patriot's" suggestion lies in his honest condemnation of the "lack of dignity and lack of truthfulness and fairness" which have too much characterized political discussion. The existence and expression of such a feeling will do much to repress the evil, but the correction will not come by transferring political discussion from the press to the stump. It is the press itself that must rise to meet the demands of a higher public sentiment. We agree with the Argus in its editorial comments upon "Patriot's" communication: "The approaching elections are to be the most important ever held in this country. In the discussion of so vital an issue, let us by all means have candor, dignity and ability."

The Income Tax.

The telegraph has already announced that the House of Representatives agreed to re-enact the present law for the taxation of incomes, merely raising the limit of exemption from $600 to $1,000. The proposition submitted by the Committee of Ways and Means, reads as follows:

That section one hundred and sixteen be amended by striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof as follows: That there shall be levied, collected, and paid annually upon the gains, profits, and income of every person residing in the United States a duty of five per cent. on the excess over $1,000, and a like duty shall be levied, collected, and paid annually upon the gains, profits, and incomes of every business, trade, or profession carried on in the United States by persons residing without the United States, and a like duty shall be levied, collected, and paid annually upon the interest or dividends accruing upon investments within the United States, or upon bonds or other securities of the United States, or of corporations, or citizens thereof.] And the duty herein provided for shall be assessed, collected, and paid upon the gains, profits, and income for the year ending 31st day of December next preceding the time for levying, collecting, and paying said duty.

Mr. Pike of Maine, moved to strike out the portion of the above amendment enclosed in brackets, and to insert the following:

Or of any citizen of the United States residing abroad whether derived from any kind of property, rents, interest, dividends, or salaries, or from any profession, trade, employment, or vocation carried on in the United States or elsewhere, or from any other source whatever, a duty of five per cent. on the amount so derived over $1,000 and not exceeding $5,000, and a duty of ten per cent. on the amount exceeding $5,000. And a like duty shall be levied, collected, and paid annually upon the gains, profits, and income of every business, trade, or profession carried on in the United States by persons residing without the United States and not citizens thereof.

Mr. Pike said,—

This is a matter of considerable importance. The chairman of the committee states that the change proposed in this bill lessens the revenue $17,000,000. The amendment proposes an exemption of incomes up to $1,000; otherwise it is a re-enactment of the old law. The question arises as to the propriety of assessing an income tax of five per cent. on one amount, and a tax of ten per cent. on a larger income. Of course it is only upon the net income, and a tax of ten per cent. upon net income is not higher than many other rates imposed in this bill. Now, if we give away by this provision in the bill as it stands seventeen millions of revenue, we must look elsewhere to supply the deficiency. If we retain the seventeen millions of tax we may relieve many small and weak manufactures of the country. Every laboring man in the country pays a tax upon what he eats, drinks, and wears. And until we come to the point of relieving the great body of people in the country from onerous taxes upon every day's consumption it is a question whether or not the men who are able to pay should not pay this increased proportion of their income to the General Government.

I have examined the English law from which this income tax is derived, and I find that for several years the system in that country was ten per cent. on large incomes, seven and a half on more moderate incomes and five per cent. on the smaller, not divided precisely as we divide them, but by different kinds of property. They have always pursued the system of apportioning taxes upon property and income. In one instance a specific tax was laid on those who kept servants, commencing with one pound on one servant, and increasing until the men who had eleven servants paid six pounds on each, thus recognizing the principle that the man of larger means should pay an increased tax in proportion to his means. That is a principle recognized by the bill of the Committee of Ways and Means when they exempt men of moderate income, up to $1,000, from taxation altogether. And it is carrying out the same idea when you have apportioned this from five to ten per cent. The principle is also recognized in the taxation of gas companies, where the tax ranges from five cents on a thousand feet to ten, fifteen, and twenty-five per cent., in proportion to the amount produced. It is a fair principle of taxation and one that sound political economy should recognize, because the aim always should be to lay taxes on that portion of the community that can most easily bear them.

I do not know that I am personally interested in the matter, but the great mass of those who are particularly interested I know would very cheerfully pay this additional sum, for I have not yet heard of any remonstrance from any gentleman whose tax is more than five per cent. according to the existing law. No one of this class has ever sent a request to this Congress to be relieved from taxation, and if we wait until that patriotic class of men shall ask to be relieved from their burden, I apprehend we will have to wait a great while. On the other hand, we do have petitions from struggling manufacturers coming to us from all quarters of the land, asking for relief. Now, we all desire to relieve all the processes by which wealth is created. We all desire to relieve, as much as possible, the labor of the country from taxation, because by doing so we produce the best general result. It is for this reason that I hope the House will follow the English example, and for a few years to come retain this tax of ten per cent.

Here the hammer fell.

To the allusion to the English precedent, Mr. Morrill, chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, replied that English distinctions of rank are unknown in America and that the discrimination proposed by Mr. Pike's amendment is unjust and undemocratic. Mr. Pike rejoined,—

I have one word to say in reply to the gentleman from Vermont, [Mr. Morrill.] I cited the example of England in this matter of income tax. I did it because British legislation has always been of a conservative character with regard to property, and no man can be accused of demagoguism or of pandering unduly to the popular taste who follows the conservative example of British legislation. The chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means replies to me that they have rank there, that they have lords and commons, a queen and dukes, barons and knights. Now, if the income tax under British legislation was assessed in proportion to rank, the argument would be a good one, but, as he well knows, some of these lords and barons are as poor as church mice; they are entirely barren of income, as the gentleman from Iowa [Mr. Wilson] suggests, [laughter;] and consequently the reply made by the distinguished chairman of the Committe of Ways and Means is entirely mal a propos.

Mr. Morrill replied that in point of fact, the income tax in England though formerly presenting different rates, is now uniofrm. He said still further, that he felt no particular interest in the question. He did not intend to take any part in debating this question, but let the House take its own course, only wishing to keep himself right on the record. He had been from the first opposed to the principle of the tax. The particular effect of it is to harrasss men of great enterprise in the country. It will have the effect, too, of creating absenteeism. When men have acquired a large fortune they will be very apt to go elsewhere to expend it.

Ehe debate was continued by other speakers, but without adding any new points of importance. Mr. Pike's amendment was finally adopted by a vote of 61 yeas to 34 nays.

The Situation in Europe.

The last number of The Nation thus rapidly and clearly indicates the chief features of the present crisis in European affairs:

The military movements in Europe are beginning to assume a strategic character. At last accounts bodies of Austrian troops occupied the northern—Bohemian and Silesian—frontiers of the empire; a Bavarian army was approaching the confines of Bohemia, probably for co-operation with the Austrians; the Prussians were massed on the borders of Saxony, threatening an invasion of that kingdom; considerable transfers of troops were taking place in Venetia, and the Italian naval squadron was reported to have taken up a position between Ancona and Grosso, an island near the Dalmatian coast, thus blocking up the entrance to the northern part of the Adriatic, and, so to say, beginning the blockade of Trieste, Venice, and Fiume. Garibaldi had accepted the command of the Italian volunteers, the Senate had concurred with the Chamber in granting extraordinary powers to the King, and the enthusiasm of the people was still on the rise.

Parts of the Austrian empire, Bohemia and Galicia, also evinced great alacrity for the war, while public opinion in Hungary seemed to be in suspense, to be decided by the Emperor's determination to restore or not to restore the liberties of the country. The impression was that Francis Joseph was about granting Hungary a responsible government in accordance with the laws of 1848, and placing it under the regency of the Empress. The armaments and works of fortification were pushed forward with increased energy. The Prussian ambassador was on the eve of leaving Vienna. A conditional treaty had been concluded between Prussia and Italy, and a threatening note addressed by the latter power to Hanover, demanding disarmament and a strict neutrality. The military occupation of both Hanover and Electoral Hesse by the Prussians was expected. Public opinion in Prussia, however, seemed to be little in accordance with the warlike efforts of the Government, and earnest demonstrations in favor of peace were not wanting. The Rhenish province was particularly alarmed on account of the war, threatened as it is by French invasion. To gain the favor of the majority of the people, Bismark, it was stated, intended modifying his cabinet on the basis of coalition with the Liberals. Demands for the convocation of a German parliament were loud throughout Germany; in Vienna the re-assembling of the Reichsrath was urged by the independent press. A conference of ministers from the minor German States was assembled at Bamberg.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.—Aspirants for the Democratic nomination are as thick as leaves in Valombrosa. The Argus has already published communications recommending Col. Alfred W. Johnson of Belfast, and Dr. B. F. Buxton of Warren. Yesterday morning, it was obliged to give up the task of printing the correspondence about this important matter and publish merely a list of the names which have been suggested. Here they are:

Hon. J. C. Talbot, of Washington County.
Hon. Arno Wiswell, of Hancock.
Hon. Gorham L. Boynton, of Penobscot.
Hon. R. D. Rice, of Kennebec.
Eben F. Pilsbury, Esq., of Franklin.
Col. D. R. Hastings, of Oxford.
Hon. Joseph Titcomb, of York.
Calvin Record, Esq., of Androscoggin.
Oliver Moses, Esq., of Sagadahoc.

The Argus adds that several other gentlemen have been spoken of, whose names will probably be added to the list. The Democratic party must be getting very hungry, when so many men can be found anxious to enjoy the limited satisfaction of becoming at least candidates for office.

May among the Mountains.

To the Editor of the Press:

A day's leisure at Gorham, N. H., gave me an opportunity of a ride into the glen, and of witnessing the mountain scenery in its spring aspects; and having never been here before so early in the season, I found therein much that was novel and unusually interesting.

The deciduous trees are just coming into foliage; and the deep purple of the maples, the brilliant green of the white birch, and the paler tints of the aspen-poplars contrast finely with the somber hues of the hemlocks and spruces, while the wild cherry and moosewood, crowding to the edges of every opening and to the borders of all the streams, with their wealth of snowy blossoms, add a peculiarly enlivening charm to the scene.

The diversity of aspect is no less noticeable in the mountain acclivities. Hugh patches of snow and ice still cling about the higher crags, glaring weird and spectre-like, beneath the gloom of impending clouds; and the swollen streams come wheeling and curvetting down their rocky channels, as if rejoiced to be loosed from the reign of winter.

The road along the banks of the Peabody is in excellent condition, and a drive of an hour and a half brought us to the Glen House.—Here the change that has been made within the year, has been so great, that but for the familiar look of its circle of mountain steeps, I should hardly have recognized the locality.

When the Glen House was building, eight or ten years ago, few, I apprehend, thought it could fail of accommodating all who should penetrate to these wild seclusions; but large as it is, it has been found altogether inadequate to the accommodation of the summer travel; and last year so great was the concourse of visitors that the landlord, Mr. Thompson, found he must either enlarge the buildings, or sell to parties who stood ready to buy, and would do so. He chose the former course, and as soon as the travel was over, set himself to the task with his usual energy. First he enlarged his saw mill, which is about a mile below the hotel, adding thereto machinery for planing, and for sawing clapboards and shingles, then built a house near by to accommodate his workmen. His next move was to divert some of the mountain streams from their courses, so as to insure a supply of water to the mill during the icy reign of winter.

Thus prepared, he entered upon a task that would have appalled most people, and running the mill almost constantly day and night since last October, has from forest trees that were growing at that time, sawed timber, joist, boards—all the materials necessary, and therewith erected one of the most extensive hotels in the country, and nearly tripled his former accommodations.

The new buildings are extended along the ridge northwardly, and in line with the old, the whole range forming a front four hundred and fourteen feet in length! In the centre is the office, with spacious reception rooms adjoining. This portion of the building is two stories in height. all the other portions are, including the attic chambers, four stories, besides the basement story.

The parlor which is on the lower floor of the new building, fronting towards Mt. Washington, is a splendid room one hundred feet in length and forty-four feet wide, larger horizontall, I think, than any church in Portland! The dining room, in a wing extending back from the main building, is of the same grand proportions, and of the same style of finish as the parlor.

On the second floor are private parlors, and sleeping rooms, and the third and fourth stories are entirely occupied by sleeping rooms, most of them being about 15 feet square. The passage ways are planned on the same spacious scale, being all 14 feet in width.

In the rear of the central office adjoining the dining room, are the kitchens and pantries, large and commodious; and to ensure cleanliness, and all contaminating influences from the waste, throughout the entire fabric, ample provision has been made in a covered drain four feet high and two and a half feet wide, which is to be extended to the river, and through which a never failing stream, tapped one mile distant up Mt. Carter, is to be diverted, so as to be continually flowing. So much for the interior arrangements; as to the exterior of the range an eye has been had to architectural taste, and with its long piazzas and projections, it is all that could be wished.

By the time of the rush of summer travel, the entire building will be ready for its accommodation. Already our host Thompson is prepared for the reception of company with his former accommodations; and a few visitors have made their appearance, mostly young folks recently married, seeking the delights of the honeymoon away from the world. And some have ascended to the summit house on Mt. Washington, where Mr. Hitchcock, the popular host of the Alpine House, through his obliging agents, was already prepared to receive them.

But I have extended my rambling notes farther than was my intention; and shall not try your patience with the particulars of our ascent of Mt. Washington—how we found the road in capital condition; how we didn't see a bear, but heard one; how we were delighted with the grand views; and how, when little more than half way up, we ran butt against a cloud, making therein a hole through which the rain poured out as if all the celestial hogsheads were bung down; how rapidly the rent in the aforesaid cloud increased, until it extended out perhaps to Portland; so that for any rain you may have received, you may consider yourselves indebted to the persevering superintendent of the mountain road, (Mr. Ham) and your humble servant. The East Maine Methodist Conference on the State of the Country.

The following resolutions, adopted by the Methodist Conference recently in session at Waldoboro, have been forwarded to us for publication. We have alluded on a previous occasion to the significance of these declarations from the Methodist clergy. Abody of men who have consecrated themselves entirely to the work of the ministry, who have no permanent home in this world, the true church militant, standing always ready to march at the word of command—what they say has a directness, an intensity of purpose, which springs largely, no doubt, from their habit of laboring for immediate results, striking with all their might on the head of the nail, knowing that their time in any place is short. It is a significant fact that these men, the representatives of the largest religious body in the country, so clearly and definitely put themselves on the side of equal rights for all, recognizing it as a religious duty so to enroll themselves for the great conflict. We invite special attention to the quaint suggestion of the fifth resolution:

Resolved, That we offer our most sincere thanks to Almighty God for the success of our arms, the abolition of American slavery, and the return of peace with all its blessings to our beloved land.

Resolved, That it is the imperative duty of the American people to manifest a practical sympathy for the brave men who bore the dear old flag through the storms of battle; and especially for all disabled soldiers and sailors, and widows and orphans of soldiers and sailors, who died to preserve the principles and institutions of the Pilgrim fathers, and of the heroes and patriots of the Revolution.

Resolved, That heart and heart, and hand in hand with all good men, standing here before the all-seeing eye, we solemnly pledge ourselves to each other and to God, that while life shall last, we will never cease our efforts or our prayers until the civil and political rights of all persons are secured, throughout the length and breadth of our land.

Resolved, That we would make honorable mention of the brave and noble men in our Congress, who, in the more sublime battle of ideas, of thoughts and of principles, unawed by influence and unbribed by gain, have so grandly sustained the principles for which our heroes died.

Resolved, That, while with State pride and tender feelings, we remember the "empty sleeve" of our own immortal HOWARD, it is with emotions too deep for expression that we think of the now VACANT CHAIR that honest Abraham Lincoln left for his marble tomb among his friends, at Springfield, Ill.

These resolutions were adopted without opposition. From a report on the state of the country, presented by the Rev. E. A. Helmershausen, and unanimously adopted, we select the following passage, which may be taken as a commentary upon the third resolution:

A Democratic Republican Federal government, such as our fathers of the revolution lived and died for, cannot long exist without the most serious and alarming disturbances, with millions of persons compelled to be clannish. Colonization in the country would be a cancer in the body politic. Without colonization, millions of people deprived of their rights would constitute a cancer with its roots running all through the country from the lakes to the gulf, and from ocean to ocean, which would result in the death of the Republic in the most horrible manner—a war of the races. It may be asked, do we favor social and domestic equality? That is not the question in discussion. The idea of caste is alike repugnant to the principles and spirit of our government and of our holy Christianity. The civil and political rights of all the people, without regard to race or color, is the real question under discussion. There is much mental, moral, social and domestic inequality among white people, and probably always will be, but this is a far different thing from the infamous idea of caste. The civil and political rights of all the people, without regard to race or color, were involved in the most solemn asseverations of the revolutionary patriots and fathers. If they could leave their marble tombs they would doubtless be surprised to find even the descendants of the old tories denying these high and holy principles. It is with unfeigned thanks to almighty God that we accept the two great historical facts, the LIBERTY and the CIVIL RIGHTS of a once enslaved people. With earnest, deep praise to the Giver of all good, we repeat the sublime words for which Galileo was imprisoned and threatened with death, "The world moves." Thanks be to God, "Revolutions never go backward." Though events may appear to move in all directions, like the visions of God which Ezekiel saw while he too was among the captives at the river Chebar, yet they go straight forward; whither the spirit goes they go, and they turn not as they go. The early morning light that gilds and warms the mountain summits is the assurance that the sun rising from on high shall melt the snow and ice from their western slopes, and cause them to bloom with verdure and laugh beneath their flowery robes. Every point gained, every blessing received, affords inspiration for other victories. Let us thank God and take courage.

GAIL HAMILTON has in the press of her publishers, Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Boston, a new volume specially adapted to summer reading, and bearing the taking title of "Summer Rest." Most of the articles in this volume are now for the first time printed, and will be found equal to any of the author's most brilliant essays. Halicarnassus appears again on the carpet; and his exploits in the way of gardening and other domestic matters are made very amusing. Gail Hamilton, though occasionally coarse and often harsh, is never dull. Possessed of a sharp and ready wit, speaking boldly, and that too upon topics wherein women have been supposed to have but little interest, she has already gathered about her an audience, which, by its hearty appreciation of her writings, attests the truth of many of her convictions.

The success of her various volumes has been remarkable, and this new collection from her pen will doubtless find as many admirers as those which have gone before.

A Card.

I have returned from New York and shall remain in Portland until September. This will be my last visit to the "Forest City" for several years as I return to New York in September to remain until next May. I then go to Europe. It is needless for me to inform you what I can do for old chronic complaints that have ever baffled all other modes of treatment. All seeking my aid should do so immediately as my stay in Portland is unavoidably short. Those who are not able to pay for treatment will be treated free every Friday afternoon. My treatment is original with myself and unlike any other now in use, which I will demonstrate to any intelligent person. Personal reference to hundreds of my former patients. HASHEESH CANDY!

The attention of the public is invited to Hasheesh Candy, which is recommended to them as the best medicine known for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Nervous System. The proprietors, in thus offering it, feel confident that a trial will fully sustain the high reputation it has already acquired in various parts of the United States. To those who let their prejudices always blind their judgment it is useless to present facts or arguments, but to others we feel that it will be sufficient to say that we offer no new discovery or experiment; our goods are standard. In the East, Hasheesh is the beginning and the end of Medicine; it is used for numberless diseases, and that it is used with success we need only refer our readers to the unlimited testimony of travelers in all ages. That it should so long have escaped the practical science of the Western World, is an astonishing fact; but now that it is prepared in such a form as to make it pleasant, safe, and above all, effective, there can be no doubt that it is destined to obtain the confidence of the public, and especially of those for whose relief it is prepared. Invalids can be assured that it contains not a particle of opium, or anything else that is in any way injurious to the system, but that it is an agreeable and permanent tonic.

AN INVALUABLE SPRING MEDICINE.

Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor.

This excellent medicinal compound was first prepared by Dr. P. in 1847, and was then employed with great success in expelling humors from the blood; but in 1848, a medical friend, who was quite celebrated as a physician, especially in the treatment of humors, suggested some important improvements, which were adopted, and which have made it (so the people say) the very best remedy for all kinds of humors known to "the faculty." This preparation is composed wholly of vegetables, among which are Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Burdock, Noble Pine, Mandrake, Senna and Bloodroot. Suffice it to say, the "Doctor" is used in hundreds of families as a general medicine. Unlike many other popular remedies, it is very grateful to the taste. Large size bottles 75 cents. Prepared at the NEW ENGLAND BOTANIC DEPOT, Boston. ap22— 3m

Sayings of Josh Billings.

This droll philosopher, though occasionally a little tiresome, certainly says a great many shrewd and piquant things. We append a few specimens:

The prinsiple diffurents between a luxury and a necessary is, the prise.

Wize men dont expeck to do away with the visssitoods ov life, they onla expeck tew blunt the edge of them.

Gravity is often mistaken for wisdom, but thare iz as much dipherents as thare iz between a gide board and the man who made it.

Honesta is the best policy, but don't take my wurd for it, tri it.

Ginowine proverbs air like good kambrick needles—short, sharp and shiny.

A man running for offis puts me in mind ov a dog that's lost—he smells ov everybody he meets, and wags hisself all over.

Most ov the advise we reseeve from others iz not so much an evidence of their affeckshun for us, az it iz an evidence of their affeckshun or themselves.

If yew want ter git a sure crop, and a big yield for the seed, sow wild oats.

What a man spends in this life, he saves; what he don't get wan't ment for him, and what he saves, he loozes.

When a feller gits a goin down hill, it duz seem as tho every thing had bin greased for the okkashun.

If there was nothing but truth in this wurld a phool would stand just as good a chance as a wize man.

Rise arly, work hard and late, live on what yew kant sell, give nothing awa, and if yew don't die ritch and go to the devil, yn may soo me for damages. N. B.—The above remarks are not intended to be personal.

We are apt tew hate them who won't take our advise, and dispize them who du.

It iz dredful eazy to be a phool—a man kan he one and not no it.

Real happiness don't consist so mutch in what a man don't hav, as it duz in what he dont want.

If I was a gal, and one ov this kind of dogs got after me, I wud hold rite off, and if he didn't comments tu dig me out at onst, s shud no he was only hunting for fun.

The Inventor of the Flying Ship.

The history of the art of flying, like that o all other great discoveries, is the history of a man's life. Forty-two years ago, of a still summer Sabbath afternoon, a youth of seventeen, in a small Jersey village, was sitting under, scarce listening to, what was doubtless a very good sermon of his father's, a clergyman. But the boy's thoughts were of green fields, murmuring brooks, and the song of birds.—His eyes followed his musings out the open windows. Suddenly passed before him, in rapid flight and majestic swoops, a magnificent eagle, king alike of the air and the whole feathered creation. Possibly the text that day had been: "Oh! that I had the wings of a bird, then would I fly away and be at rest." Be that as it may, the instant, an electric resolve in the boy's mind was: "Not till I have the power in air of the wings of a bird, 'will I be at rest.'" That afternoon the flying-machine was born in embryo.

To acquire skill, delicacy, and rapidity of manipulation, the young man learned watchmaking. To acquire knowledge of the sciences, he entered upon and passed with honor through a course of medicine and surgery, with Dr. Valentine Mott, in the old College of Physicians and Surgeons in Barclay street, getting his degree in 1829. His mechanical and scientific proficiency were both bent to the one life purpose—the invention of a flying-machine. But money was a necessity. He must be rich. So the watchmaker and physician invented and patented an unpickable lock, sold it to Hobbs, whose name it bears, and pocketed $30,000, in those days quite a fortune. That lock has been the nursing mother of the flying machine. The name of that watchmaker, doctor, lock-inventor, is Solomon Andrews, now a hale man, of fifty-nine, born in Herkimer County, N. Y., but living most of his life in Perth Amboy, N. J. He invented the lock which is used in the United States mail service. At the request of his oyster-selling townsmen, that they might be relieved from the yoke of the Connecticut keg-makers he invented machinery by which a Jerseyman may make his own oyster-kegs, and at the rate of a hundred a day. He has invented very many other things beside, so that even the pipe which he holds in his mouth while he talks about the air-ship is constructed on a principle entirely new.

MR. LINCOLN'S OWN ACCOUNT OF HIS FLIGHT.—In a history of the rebellion by Benson J. Lossing, just issued, the following account of Mr. Lincoln's clandestine journey between Philadelphia and Washington is given as being from his own lips:

"I arrived at Philadelphia on the 21st. I agreed to stop over night, and on the following morning hoist the flag over Independence Hall. In the evening there was a great crowd where I received my friends, at the Continental Hotel. Mr. Judd, a warm personal friend, from Chicago, sent for me to come to his room. I went, and found there Mr. Pinkerton, a skilful police detective, also from Chicago, who had been employed for some days in Baltimore, watching or searching for suspicious persons there. Pinkerton informed me that a plan had been laid for my assassination, the exact time when I expected to go through Baltimore being publicly known. He was well informed as to the plan, but did not know that the conspirators would have pluck enough to execute it. He urged me to go right through with him to Washington that night. I didn't like that. I had made engagements to visit Harrisburg and go from there to Baltimore, and I resolved to do so. I could not believe that there was a plot to murder me. I made arrangements, however, with Mr. Judd for my return to Philadelphia the next night, if I should be convinced that there was danger in going through Baltimore. I told him that if I should meet at Harrisburg, as I had at other places, a delegation to go with me to the next place (then Baltimore,) I should feel safe, and go on.

When I was making my way back to my room, through crowds of people, I met Frederick Seward. We went together to my room when he told me that he had been sent, at the instance of his father and General Scott, to inform me that their detectives in Baltimore had discovered a plot there to assassinate me. They knew nothing of Pinkerton's movements. I now believed such a plot to be in existence.

The next morning I raised the flag over Independence Hall, and then went on to Harrisburg with Mr. Sumner, Major (now General) Hunter, Mr. Judd, Mr. Lamon, and others.—There I met the Legislature and people, dined, and waited until the time appointed for me to leave. In the meantime, Mr. Judd had secured the telegraph that no communication could pass to Baltimore and give the conspirators knowledge of a change in my plans.

In New York some friend had given me a new beaver hat in a box, and in it had placed a soft wool hat. I had never worn one of the latter in my life. I had this box in my room. Having informed a very few of my friends of the secret of my new movements, and the cause, I put on an old overcoat that I had with me, and putting the soft hat in my pocket I walked out of the house at the back door, bareheaded, without exciting any special curiosity. Then I put on the soft hat and joined my friends without being recognized by strangers for I was not the same man. Sumner and Hunter wished to accompany me. I said no; you are known, and your presence might betray me. I will only take Lamon (now marshal of this district), whom nobody knew, and Mr. Judd, Sumner and Hunter felt hurt.

We went back to Philadphia and found a message there from Pinkerton (who had returned to Baltimore) that the conspirators had held their final meeting that evening, and it was doubtful whether they had the nerve to attempt the execution of their purpose. I went on, however, as the arrangement had been made in a special train. We were a long time in the station at Baltimore. I heard people talking around, but no one particularly observed me. At an early hour on Saturday morning, at about the time I was expected to leave Harrisburg, I arrived in Washington.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.—The Pall Mall Gazette has the following announcement: "A discovery, of at least as vital importance for Egyptology as the celebrated Rosetta stone itself, was made about three weeks ago by a party of tour German explorers—Reinisch, Rosler, Lepsius and Weidenbach—at a place called Sanc, the whilom Tanis, the principal scene of Rameses II.'s enormous architectural undertakings. A stone with Greek characters upon it was found protruding from the ground, and when fully excavated proved to contain a bilingual inscription in no less than thirty-seven lines of hieroglyphics and seventy-six lines of Greek, in the most perfect state of preservation, and dating from the time of the third Ptolemy, Euergetes I., in 138 B. C. The stone measures two metres twenty-two centimetres in width, and is completely covered by the inscriptions. Their first attempts at editing this important inscription having failed, the travellers returned to the spot, and during a stay of two days, the 22d and 23d of April, copied the inscription most carefully, and photographed it three times. The next post will bring particulars as to the contents, and copies of the document itself."

Hair Dressing!

A dressing for Children's hair, which can be used without fear of injury to its growth or texture, has hitherto been unattainable. Most, if not all, of the Hair Dressings heretofore sold at the drug stores are composed chiefly of oil and alcohol,—ingredients which are antagonistic to the life of the hair.—KNIGHTS' Hair Dressing contains neither oil nor alcohol, is purely vegetable in its composition, and is the most perfect Hair renewer and invigorator that has ever been made available to the public. Persons whose hair has been thinned by sickness or age should give this preparation a trial, with the assurance that a luxuriant growth of hair will result, unless the roots are dead, when such an effect is impossible.

KNIGHTS' HAIR DRESSING

is an elegant preparation, exquisitely perfumed, incline the hair to curl, will not soil the skin or any article of apparel, and is fast superceding the pernicious articles which have so long deceived a credulous public.

For changing gray or faded hair to its original color,

DR. KNIGHTS'

ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER

should be used, and is the only preparation for that purpose upon which the public can rely with confidence. Both the Dressing and the Restorer are put up in

COOK'S

Chlorate Dentifrice!

—FOR—

Cleansing the Teeth!

HARDENING THE GUMS,

—AND—

PURIFYING THE BREATH!

It is a New Article in the Market, but has already gained a wide-spread reputation.

Read the following Testimonials in its Favor.

LEWISTON, Jan. 12, 1866.

Messrs. JOHN G. COOK & Co—Dear Sir:—Having tested your Chlorate Dentifrice we feel assured that it is an excellent powder for cleansing the teeth and purifying the breath, and having examined the recipe from which it is made, we are sure there is no article in it which is in the least injurious to the teeth or general health, but on the contrary, highly beneficial to both.

Respectfully yours,

D. B. STROUT,
THOMAS FILLEBROWN,
Dentists, Lisbon Street, Lewiston, Maine.

We the undersigned have examined specimens of Cooke's Chlorate Dentifrice, also the recipe from which it is prepared, and we take pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and effectual tooth powder.

A. Garcelon, M. D., John M. Small, M. D., Pearl Martin, M. D, M. C. Wedgewood, M.D., J. Fanning, M. D., A. Burbank, M. D., Eli Edgecombe, M. D., J. P. Fessenden, M. D., R. R. Ricker, M. D., Lewiston. H. L. K. Wigen, M. D., S. Oakes, M. D., N. C. Harris, M. D., Auburn.

Lewiston, February 3, 1866.

MESSRS. JOHN G. COOK, & Co—Gentlemen:—I have carefully examined your "Chlorate Dentifrice" both Chemically and Physically. Its composition is accords with the recipe, and is free from any metallic, or mineral compound, which can injure the teeth. It cleanses the surface of the teeth without abrading them, and it contracts the gums firmly on them, while its chlorate compound destroys any decaying matter adhering to them. In fact, it contains the best constituents of several popular dentifrices.

Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D.

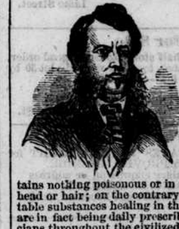
NATURALIZER!

For the Hair.



I have compounded and perfected a preparation for restoring gray, light or red hair to a beautiful brown or black in four weeks.

It is not a dye, does not stain the skin, or soil the clothing; it contains all the medicinal properties of the chemical Reproductor for making the hair grow, preventing its falling off, and removing dandruff, and contains nothing poisonous or in the least hurtful to the head or hair; on the contrary it is composed of vegetable substances healing in their nature, and which are in fact being daily prescribed by the first physicians throughout the civilized world for external application in skin diseases.

I will not insult the good sense of the public by giving it a name, the pronunciation of which would be likely to dislocate their jaws, but will call it simply NATURALIZER, or Improved Reproductor.

As a dressing, as well as for a remedy for every disease of the scalp and hair, it is unsurpassed.

CAN BE FOUND AT HIS

PRIVATE MEDICAL ROOMS,

No. 5 Temple Street,

WHERE he can be consulted privately, and with the utmost confidence by the afflicted, at all hours daily, and from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Dr. H. addresses those who are suffering under the affliction of private diseases, whether arising from impure connection or the terrible vice of self-abuse. Devoting his entire time to that particular branch of the medical profession, he feels warranted in GUARANTEEING A CURE IN ALL CASES, whether of long standing or recently contracted, entirely removing the dregs of disease from the system, and making a perfect and PERMANENT CURE.

He would call the attention of the afflicted to the fact of his long standing and well-earned reputation furnishing sufficient assurance of his skill and success.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

Every intelligent and thinking person must know that remedies handed out for general use should have their efficacy established by well tested experience in the hands of a regularly educated physician, whose preparatory studies fits him for all the duties he must fulfill; yet the country is flooded with poor nostrums and cure-alls, purporting to be the best in the world, are not only useless, but always injurious. General Callum immediately telegraphed to Mrs. Hoyt, who arrived here at five o'clock this afternoon.

At the desire of the deceased General's daughter, Mrs. Hoyt,—and it is thought the old hero himself had the same wish,—the remains will be interred in the West Point Cemetery.

The remains will probably be removed tomorrow to the chapel of the academy. Meanwhile a guard of honor, composed of officers in full dress and wearing crape on the left arm, are in attendance upon the corpse:

Gen. Scott had only been confined to bed for the last three days, but during that time his strength was gradually failing, and he seemed to have a presentiment that this was his last visit to West Point, in which institution he took an intense interest and at which he spent every summer for the last forty years. When coming from the boat on the 10th of May, he remarked to a friend that he had come to the old academy to die, and in conversation with Captain Boynton, a few days ago, he replied to some remark concerning his visit to West Point that he came there to be buried. It seems appropriate that the great military academy of the nation should be the dying place of the nation's oldest soldier.

The funeral will take place at one o'clock on Friday, with such military pomp as the post can afford. It is expected, however, that there will be a large accession of eminent personages from Washington and elsewhere.

—The nitro-glycerine that exploded with such terrible effect at Aspinwal came through England from Germany, and was brought over the railroad from Hull to Liverpool. The English are excited over this and similar discoveries. Lucifer matches are transported as "wooden ware," and explosive oils are palmed off as non-dangerous packages of various kinds.

A writer on "Our Houses" in the last "Galaxy" says that the parlor of the modern house "is always in some degree more splendid than the real rooms in which the family live, and the rooms are generally pinched and straitened of some comfort, to furnish out that one magnificent, senseless humbug."

—Mr. H. W. Lowell, formerly of Lewiston, writes to the Journal from Los Angelos, Sonora, Mexico, under date April 20th, "Corn is up higher than my head. The trees are hanging full of the beautiful fruit which this country gives us, and the flowers are so sweet, I often wish I could send some to the cold regions of Maine."

TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS.

Financial.

NEW YORK, May 31.

The Commercial's article says the stock market is unusually dull though steady, with the exception of Erie, Michigan Southern and Cleveland & Pittsburg. Transactions in railroad shares are merely nominal. State stocks are active, apparently from the return of a moderate amount from London. Governments quiet but firm. Money is moderate demand and more ample supply. Gold active, opened at 38¾ and advanced to 39¼, and at 1.30 P. M. was 39½. From present appearances it does not appear that the export on Saturday will exceed two and half million. Exchange is moderate demand at 109½ @ 109¾ for sixty days, and 110¼ @ 111 for sight.

Gold at 5 P. M. was 140¼. The Erie Railroad has negotiated a loan of nearly three and a half millions to run two years.

BLANCHARD'S

Improvement on Steam Boilers!

ON some boilers 700 degs. of heat is thrown away, making a loss of 1-3 the fuel. The question is often asked how can this be saved. Mr. Blanchard has invented a boiler that takes perfect control of all the heat and makes it do duty in the engine. This is very simple in its construction; after the engine is in motion the smoke pipe is closed tight, and the waste heat carried through heaters, heating the steam to any temperature desired; the remainder carried through the water heater, using up all the waste heat but 200 degs.; the heat being reduced so low there can be no danger of setting fires by sparks thrown from engines, which will add much value to this invention, besides the saving 1-3 the fuel.

A NEW INVENTION.

WETTING THE FEET is the most prolific cause of disease and death known to humanity. It is almost sure to bring on a cold; and colds, neglected, and often when not neglected, lead to fevers or to coughs and fatal consumptions. It is in recognition of this truth that the inventive talent of the country has for years been devising some method, or attempting to devise it, for keeping the feet dry, and yet that should not give inconvenience to the wearer. Rubber shoes, in one form or another,
